Several REASONS

Proving that Inoculating or Transplanting the Small Pox, is a Lawful Practice, and that it has been Blessed by GOD for the Saving of many a Life.

By Increase Mather, D. D.

Exod. XX. 12. Thou shalt not Kill.

Gal. I. 10. Do I seek to please Men? if I please Men, I should not be a Servant of CHRIST.

It has been Questioned, Whether Inoculating the Small Pox be a Lawful Practice. I incline to the Affirmative, for these Reasons.

I. Because I have read, that in Smyrna, Constantinople, and other Places. Thousands of Lives have been saved by Inoculation, and not one of Thousands has miscarried by it. This is related by Wise & Learned Men who would not have imputed on the World a false Narrative. Which also has been published by the Royal Society; therefore a great Regard is due to it.

II. WE hear that several Physicians have Recommended the Practice heretofore to His Majesty, as a Means to preserve the Lives of his Subjects, and that His Wise and Excellent Majesty King GEORGE, as also his Royal Highness the Prince have approved heretofore, and that it is now coming into practice in the Nation. In one of the Publick Prints are these Words, "Inoculating the Small Pox is a safe and universally Useful Experiment." Several Worthy Persons lately arrived from England inform us, that it is a successful Practice there: It Wise & Learned Men in England, declare their Approbation of this Practice. For us to declare our Disapprobation will not be for our Honour.

III. GOD has graciously owned the Practice of Inoculation, among us in Boston, where some Scores, yea above an hundred have been inoculated, & not one miscarried, but they Bless GOD, for His discovering this Experiment to them. It has been objected, that one that was Inoculated, died, viz. Mrs. D———: but she had the Small Pox, in the common way before, & her Friends and nearest Relations declare that she received no hurt by Inoculation, but was by a fright put into Fits that caused her Death. It is then a wonderful Providence of GOD, that all that were inoculated should have their Lives preserved; so that the Safety and Usefulness of this Experiment is confirmed to us by Ocular Demonstration: I confess I am afraid, that the Discouraging of this Practice, may cause many a Life to be lost, which for my own part, I should be loth to have any hand in, because of the Sixth Commandment.

IV. IT cannot be denied but that some Wise and judicious Persons among us, approve of Inoculation, both Magistrates and Ministers; Among Ministers I am One, who have been a poor Preacher of the Gospel in Boston above Threescore Years, and am the next Age, Weak and unworthy Minister now in New-England. My Sentiments, and my Son's also, about this Matter are well known. Also we hear that the Reverend and Learned Mr. Salem Standard of Northampton concurs with us, so doth the Reverend Mr. Wife of Ipswich, and many other younger Divines, not only in Boston, but in the Country, join with their Fathers. Furthermore, I have made some Enquiry, Whether there are many Persons of a Profane Life and Conversation, that do Approve and Defend Inoculation, and I have been answered, that they know but of very few such. This is to me a weighty Consideration. But on the other hand, tho' there are some Worthy Persons, that are not clear about it; nevertheless, it cannot be denied, but that the known Children of the Wicked one, are generally fierce Enemies to Inoculation. It is a grave saying of Old Solomon, Prophets and Priests shall be as a snare unto them. For my part I should be ashamed to joyn with such Persons; O my Soul come not thou into their Secret, unto their Assembly be not thou United. I am far from reflecting upon all that are against Inoculation. I know there are very worthy Persons (with whom I desire to Live and Die) that are not clear in their Judgments for it, and they are greatly to be commended and honoured in that they will not act against a doubting Conscience; yet it may be some of them might change their minds, if they would advise with those who are best able to afford them Scripture Light in this as well as in other Cases of Conscience.

Novemb. 20. 1721.

That the Cause may have Two Witnesses, here are subjoyned the Sentiments of another, well known in our Churches, of which I declare my hearty Approbation.

Sentiments on the Small Pox Inoculated.

A most Successful, and Allowable Method of preventing Death, and many other grievous Miseries, by the Small Pox, is not only Lawful but a Duty, to be used by those who apprehend their Lives immediately endanger'd by the terrible Distemper.

But the Method of managing and governing the Small Pox in the way of Inoculation, is a most successful and allowable Method of preventing Death, and many other grievous Miseries by this dreadful Distemper. Therefore, 'tis not only Lawful, but also

PREFATORY NOTE

Mr. Fabyan's Collection of Rare Americana is one of the most important of its kind that has come into the American Auction Mart in recent years. Greater collections, embracing a wider field of American history have frequently been sold; but in its special feature of rare and important Mather titles, very few, if any collections disposed of in America have equalled in quality Mr. Fabyan's notable gathering. Even the famous Brinley Collection (although more extensive) was notably lacking in some of the more important items which it has been Mr. Fabyan's good fortune to secure. Many of the Mather copies, because of the excellent state of preservation, might well be termed "unique," offered as they are either in the original wrappers, or showing the original stitchings, while others are in the original calf or sheep bindings, some with wide or uncut edges, each being neatly protected by a half morocco slip-case. A number of the Mather items contain contemporary signatures and inscriptions, including the names of Jonathan Belcher, Thomas Foxcroft, and John Barnard. Although it seems superfluous in a collection of this importance to make special mention of any of the items, the following merit special attention,—

BY COTTON MATHER. "The High Attainment," Boston, 1703. Presentation copy to the Reverend J. Belcher, and the only known copy.

BY INCREASE MATHER. "A Narrative of the Miseries of New England," Boston, 1688. Unique copy bearing indisputable evidence of the place and time of publication.

"Death is Certain," Boston, 1710. Only known copy.

"Several Reasons Proving that Inoculating or Transplanting the Small Pox is a Lawful Practice," Boston, 1721. Only known copy of this rare broadside.

In his pursuit of the rarer and more important items of Colonial Literature Mr. Fabyan has added to his collection items of inestimable value and great historical importance, notable among them being,—

ELIPHALET ADAMS'S Sermon on "The Necessity of Judgment and Righteousness," delivered before the General Court at Hartford, Connecticut, May 11, 1710, and printed by Thomas Short, at New London, in 1710. This is a recently discovered title, and the imprint as well as the date of delivery refutes Isaiah Thomas's statement regarding "The Saybrook Platform and Confession of Faith" as being the first book printed in Connecticut. The latter according to newly discovered data by Trumbull was not finished until early in 1711, although the imprint bears the same date as the Adams Sermon.

Of superlative interest to New York Collectors and especially to Historians of Columbia College is a recently discovered treatise (the only known copy) by "Hippocrates Mithridate," entitled "Some Serious Thoughts on the Design of erecting a College in the Province of New York," and printed by the younger Zenger in 1749.

Other items of interest include rare Connecticut and Rhode Island imprints of the eighteenth century: Early FRANKLIN and other Almanacs; Unknown issues of JOHANNOT, DICKENSON, and ROWLANDSON'S Indian Narratives; Original Edition of SANDERS'S "Indian Wars;" Important tracts by WILLIAM LIVINGSTON; WILLIAM MILNS'S hitherto undescribed play of "All in a Bustle," written for the Opening of the New Theatre, New York, and printed in 1770; BILLINGS'S "The New-England Psalm-Singer," 1770, with engraved plate and music by PAUL REVERE; A highly important autograph letter by GEORGE WASHINGTON, with mention of Cape-Cod Canal, accompanied by the official report of the engineer; JOHN WILSON'S "A Copy of Verses." [Cambridge, 1657], the first separate example of Native Poetry printed in English America, and the only known copy; ROGER WOLCOTT'S "Poetical Meditations," 1725, the first book of poetry and the first published historical record of the Colony of Connecticut; and many other items of importance.

Conditions of Sale

1. Any bid which is merely a nominal or fractional advance may be rejected by the auctioneer, if, in his judgment, such bid would be likely to affect the sale injuriously.

2. The highest bidder shall be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the auctioneer shall either decide the same or put up for re-sale the lot so in dispute.

3. Payment shall be made of all or such part of the purchase money as may be required, and the names and addresses of the purchasers shall be given immediately on the sale of every lot, in default of which the lot so purchased shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

Payment of that part of the purchase money not made at the time of sale, shall be made within ten days thereafter, in default of which the undersigned may either continue to hold the lots at the risk of the purchaser and take such action as may be necessary for the enforcement of the sale, or may at public or private sale, and without other than this notice, re-sell the lots for the benefit of such purchaser, and the deficiency (if any) arising from such re-sale, shall be a charge against such purchaser.

4. Delivery of any purchase will be made only upon payment of the total amount due for all purchases at the sale.

Deliveries will be made on sales days between the hours of 9 A. M. and 1 P. M., and on other days—except holidays—between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Delivery of any purchase will be made only at the American Art Galleries, or other place of sale, as the case may be, and only on presenting the bill of purchase.

Delivery may be made, at the discretion of the Association, of any purchase during the session of the sale at which it was sold.

5. Shipping, boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

6. Storage of any purchase shall be at the sole risk of the purchaser. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer, and thereafter, while the Association will exercise due caution in caring for and delivering such purchase, it will not hold itself responsible if such purchase be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

Storage charges will be made upon all purchases not removed within ten days from the date of the sale thereof.

7. Guarantee is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness or authenticity of any lot, and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing, or any imperfection not noted. Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, after which it is sold "as is" and without recourse.

The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly, and will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued, and, in its judgment, may either sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert who thereby would become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without proper foundation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Buying or bidding by the Association for responsible parties on orders transmitted to it by mail, telegraph or telephone, will be faithfully attended to without charge or commission. Any purchase so made will be subject to the above Conditions of Sale, which cannot in any manner be modified. The Association, however, in the event of making a purchase of a lot consisting of one or more books for a purchaser who has not, through himself or his agent, been present at the exhibition or sale, will permit such lot to be returned within ten days from the date of sale, and the purchase money will be returned, if the lot in any material manner differs from its catalogue description.

Orders for execution by the Association should be written and given with such plainness as to leave no room for misunderstanding. Not only should the lot number be given, but also the title, and bids should be stated to be so much for the lot, and when the lot consists of one or more volumes of books or objects of art, the bid per volume or piece should also be stated. If the one transmitting the order is unknown to the Association, a deposit should be sent or reference submitted. Shipping directions should also be given.

Priced copies of the catalogue of any sale, or any session thereof, will be furnished by the Association at a reasonable charge.

[No. 12]

Sale Tuesday Afternoon, February 17th

[No. 12—Continued]

[Quotations from Job and Cicero: 3 lines.] Small 4to, sewn. In morocco folder, lettered on front cover.

NEW-YORK. | Printed by JOHN ZENGER, MDCCXLIX

COLLATION: Title; blank verso; Dedication, 3 pages, unnumbered; Some Serious Thoughts, pp. 1-9.

A RECENTLY DISCOVERED TREATISE RELATING TO COLUMBIA COLLEGE. BELIEVED TO BE UNIQUE.

Apart from its excessive rarity the Tract now discovered, and offered, merits close attention because of the far-reaching influence of the great Institution, the projected services of which were outlined by the writer, George H. Moore, in "The Origin and Early History of Columbia College" records interesting facts relative to methods for obtaining necessary funds, and references to the early friends and supporters of the College: Bishop Berkeley, Dr. Johnson, Gen. Shirley, Myles Cooper, etc.

Publications bearing the imprint of John (son of John Peter) Zenger are cited as MORE EXCESSIVELY RARE THAN ANY OTHER ISSUES OF THE NEW YORK PRESS. Isaiah Thomas's statement,—"he published a few pamphlets," seems supported only by "A Brief Vindication of the Purchasers," etc., 1745-6; of Nathan's Almanacks for 1750 and 1751 (presumably the other "pamphlets" referred to by Thomas) no copy seems extant; The Weekly New York Journal, for 1749 receives separate mention.

Hildeburn states that following Zenger's death, July, 1751, his press and type were sold by auction. It seems reasonable to assume that all uncirculated productions of the press found their way to the paper-mill at the time.

NEW-HAVEN, Printed and Sold | by J. Parker & Company at the Post-Office. | [1758]

EXTREMELY RARE. Only another copy (Yale College) is known.

Trumbull refers to only one J. Parsons,—the Jonathan Parsons, Yale College, Class of 1729, whose escape, with nine other students, inspired the poem described by Trumbull, No. 113.

14. CONNECTICUT ENGRAVED MUSIC. Chorister's Companion (The): or Church Music Revised... Together with a Collection of approved Hymns and Anthems. Many of which, never before printed. Oblong 12mo, original boards. With cloth folder, in half morocco slip-case, lettered on back.

NEW-LONDON in N.E. Printed by Thomas Short, Printer to the Governour and Council. 1710.

THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN CONNECTICUT.

Thomas errs in stating that the Confession of Faith (The Saybrook Platform) was the first publication in book form issued by the Connecticut Press. Trumbull's note to the "Confession": "Though the Title page has 1710, and the volume is usually assigned to that year, it was not completed before 1711, and the greater part of the edition (of 2,000 copies) remained in the hands of Mr. Short's widow until 1714, nearly two years after his death." is based on more recent and fuller investigation, and establishes the priority of the Election Sermon of 1710.

The copy now offered was originally the property of the Reverend John Higginson, of Salem, a friend and correspondent of its author, and bears his autograph on the upper margin of the first page; on the lower margin a note in his hand refers to the "Narrative,"—Came out in ye Winter 1688. This inscription was undoubtedly the source of William H. Whitmore's statement ("Increase Mather, the Agent of Massachusetts," p. 14),—"a copy reached Boston in season to be printed before the end of the current year, which closed on the 24th of March according to our modern reckoning."

The close friendship which existed between the Rev. Increase Mather and the Rev. John Higginson adds a peculiar interest to the present copy, and the unique inscription removes the uncertainty heretofore apparent in the references of bibliographers.

Mr. Higginson died in 1708, aged 93 years. His 72 years' services in the ministry are referred to in "A Testimony to the Order of the Gospel in the Churches of New England by the Two Most Aged Ministers of the Gospel yet surviving in the Countrey" (Rev. John Higginson and Rev. William Hubbard).

OF EXTREME RARITY. The example described is apparently THE ONLY KNOWN COPY OF THIS TRACT.

The Elegy, 52 lines, occupying the last two pages, is, undoubtedly by Benjamin Tompson (1642-1714), author of other elegiac verse, and of "New England's Crisis," Boston, 1676, a poem descriptive of King Philip's war. On his tombstone he is described,—a learned schoolmaster and physician, and ye renowned poet of New England.

Made by that Reverend Man of God Mr. John Wilson, Pastor to the

M^R. Joseph Brisco,

Who was translated from Earth to Heaven Jan. 1. 1657.

*Not by a Fiery Chariot as Elisha was,
But by the Water, which was the outward cause:
And now at Rest with Christ his Saviour dear,
Though he hath left his dear Relations here.*

*Joseph Briscoe } Anagram.
Job cries hopes.*

THere is no Job but cries to God and hopes,
And God his ear in Christ; to cries he opes,
Out of the deeps to him I cry'd and hop'd,
And unto me his gracious ear is op'd:
Doubt not of this ye that my death bewail,
What if it did so strangely me assail:
What if I was so soon in Waters drown'd,
And when I cry'd to men, no help I found:
There was a God in Heaven that heard my cry:
And lookt upon me with a gracious eye:
He that did pity Joseph in his grief,
Sent from above unto my soul relief:
He sent his Angels who did it convey
Into his Bosom, where poor Lazarus lay:
Let none presume to censure my estate,
As Job his Friends did stumble at his Fate:
All things on Earth do fall alike to all,
To good Disciples, which on God that call;
To those that do Blaspheme his Holy Name,
And unto those that reverence the same:
He that from nature drew me unto Grace,
And look'd upon me with a Fathers face:
When in my blood upheld me to the last,
And now I do of joyes eternal tast.
Remember how Job's precious children Dy'd,
As also what the Prophet did betide: Jonah
What was the end of good Josiah's life,
And how it fared with Ezekiel's Wife:
Remember what a Death it was that Christ
(Suffered for me) the Darling of the highest;
His Death of Deaths hath quite remov'd the sting,
No matter how or where the Lord doth bring
Us to our end, in Christ who live and die
And sure to live with Christ eternally.

Henry Stevens refers to this work as "perhaps the pertest keenest, wittiest stingiest little literary production that New England ever produced . . . The occasion was a grand one.
